Paraphasic errors similar to spoken language have been observed; whereas in spoken language a phonemic substitution would occur (e.g. "tagle" instead of "table"), in ASL case studies errors in movement, hand position, and morphology have been noted.

A computer captured what she would have seen—a strangely abstract death no more dramatic than a video game. About two minutes after the final radio call, at 1:49:53 in the morning, the radar swept across EgyptAir's transponder at 33,000 feet. Afterward, at successive twelve-second intervals, the radar read 31,500, 25,400, and 18,300 feet—a descent rate so great that the air-traffic-control computers interpreted the information as false, and showed "XXXX" for the altitude on Brennan's display.

Between Nov. 13 and Jan. 4, the day he boarded the truck for Kansas, No. 534 put away 706 pounds of corn and 336 pounds of alfalfa hay, bringing his total living expenses for that period to $61.13. I was into this deal now for $659.

Shirley Ardell Mason (1923–1998), also known as "Sybil", would disappear and then reappear with no recollection of what happened during the time span.

Hypermetamorphosis, characterized by Ozawa et al. as "an irresistible impulse to notice and react to everything within sight".

Karp worked on Wall Street in risk arbitrage and option trading and was fired in 1984 after drugs were found in his desk. Karp went on to indulge in a life total hedonism until the money ran out and his parents put him in detox.

It was a Legacy 600, an imposing $25 million beauty capable of accommodating 13 passengers in luxury at 41,000 feet, at more than 500 miles an hour, and, with a reduced passenger load, of flying 3,700 miles between stops.

Females are 8–29 mm (0.3–1.1 in) long and 4–14 mm (0.16–0.55 in) wide. Males are about 7.5–15 mm (0.3–0.6 in) long and 3–7 mm (0.12–0.28 in) wide.

A 15,683-horsepower engine roars through the holds, pushing 55,328 tons of steel.

Its recorded distance traveled per season has ranged from a low of 708 km to a high of 11,062 km in 2002–03.

Information

Larsen has its roots in Royal Gothic by P.M. Shanks (known as London Gothic in the U.S.), but also takes cues from the somewhat related German typeface Zeitungs-Grotesque, both of which made their first appearance in the 1870s.
Strict reviving is discarded with more even stroke widths in addition to taking other liberties with design, for example the clunky, out-of-place S/s. While toning down certain aspects of the original Royal Gothic, other distinctive details are amplified, such as the low radius round-to-straight shapes of B, D, P and R. All this while avoiding overly clean and modular appearance. The original normal width is expanded to a range of four widths while keeping the overal density coherent.

Designed by Joona Louhi.
Released in 2022.
